Lost Clothes.

Dominico Corro reported to the police yesterday that during his absence from his room in the Rome Hotel, a thief stole his clothes and shoes, leaving him with nothing but a pair of socks. The thief also took a pair of shoes and a necktie.

West North Handcuffed.

Sheriff M. R. Keef of Monterey county arrived here yesterday, and left for home last night, taking with him J. F. Jacobs, who was arrested here several days ago, and who is wanted in California on a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses. He is alleged to have passed a number of worthless checks.

Seeking a Brother.

The Chief of Police has received a letter from Herman Fischgrund, No. 228 Nevada avenue, Cleveland, O., asking the officers to locate his brother, Joseph Fischgrund. ## Struck by a Car.

Frank Moore, who lives at No. 522 Stevenson avenue, was struck by an electric car on Second street between Main and Spring at 11 o'clock yesterday morning and painfully injured. He sustained several bruises and cuts about the head and the fingers of his right hand were twisted almost off. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital and then home.

Teachers' Meeting.

Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock there will be a general teachers' meeting at the High School. The program will include the discussion of work for all eight grades, and the kindergarten, taking up the subjects of reading, arithmetic, geometry, language and the poems "Evangeline" and "Lady of the Lake." At 11 o'clock an address will be made by Superintendent James A. Fosbury.

Shot With a Gun.

P. Martinez is a prisoner in the City Jail, charged with petty larceny. He is nursing a very sore head. On South Main street last night he was struck by a special officer stealing a bundle of shirts from a store. The officer went to arrest him and he ran. As he refused to stop, the officer threw his club at him, knocking him down and out. He did not revive until the patrol car arrived to take him to jail.

Wholesale Run Down.

George Hanson, aged 34, who lives at No. 413 E. Main street, was run down by a carriage while riding his wheel on Fifth street near Broadway and severely injured. A gash three inches long was cut in his arm, and his head and body were bruised. The driver of the carriage was W. H. McClain of the firm of McClain & Bayless, yard cleaners at No. 111 San Pedro street. Those who witnessed the accident and the injured boy say the driver was on the wrong side of the street.

Andrews is president of the new society, Mrs. M. Dahl and Mrs. Thomas Wild vice-presidents; Mrs. R. D. Livingston, secretary, and Mrs. Buchanan, treasurer.

Swollen Mails.

A few days just preceding and following the first of a month, the members of the postoffice mailing department are forced to work like bees in a hive. Bills and statements crowd the regular mails with a sudden rush, and the letter pouches that stand open-mouthed at the railings grow fat and are retired in an incredibly short time. The first of the tourist mail, also, has begun to hurry in to institute the regular winter "well" in the Los Angeles mail business; a sudden heavy increase probably unequaled by any city in the country. In a space of twenty-four hours, ending Tuesday afternoon, 50,000 letters were put through the electric stamping machine at the local office.

What the Cocks Say.

The members of the newly-organized Southern California Cocks' Association, which the proprietors of the Westminster, Van Nuys and Hollenbeck hotels have promised to fight to the end, have resented the statement made by these proprietors, that their association was an embryo union of the old breed, and say they wish Mr. Johnson, Mr. Potter and Mr. Blithe would come to their meetings and see for themselves.

They say their organization is in no way planned on union lines; that the men who are working for the above-named employers bear them the highest regard, and have "no wrongs to right, no wax to grind;" that the association, being in opposition to the Cocks' Union that is governed by the Federation of Labor, is as much in the interests of the employers as the employed, and that the Southern California Cocks' Association is purely a social club, for the furthering of the social relations among the local craft, and for their education in the matters of craft interest.

"If the hotel-keepers mentioned will continue to treat their employees as they have done in the past," says W. J. Way, the secretary, "the association will stand by them in any emergency. We recognize that an employer should run his business to suit himself, without dictation from anybody." He lays special stress on the fact that the association meetings are not secret.

Swollen Mails. A few days just preceding and following the first of a month, the members of the postoffice mailing department are forced to work like bees in a hive. Bills and statements crowd the regular mails with a sudden rush, and the letter pouches that stand open-mouthed at the railings grow fat and are retired in an incredibly short time. The first of the tourist mail, also, has begun to hurry in to institute the regular winter "well" in the Los Angeles mail business; a sudden heavy increase probably unequaled by any city in the country. In a space of twenty-four hours, ending Tuesday afternoon, 50,000 letters were put through the electric stamping machine at the local office.

ARIZONA AND MINING NUMBER.

Early in October The Times will issue a special number, devoted to the mining industry of the United States in general, and particularly to mining in the Southwest, with special reference to the Territory of Arizona. For several months writers well qualified for the work have been preparing matter for this number, which will be the most complete and exhaustive publication devoted to the subject that has ever been issued in the Southwest. In addition to a number of reliable and complete descriptions of various mining districts and prominent mines, there will be a number of special articles on various phases of the mining industry in general, which cannot fail to be of great interest to all who are in any way connected with the business of extracting the precious metals from the earth. Besides these features, this number of The Times will contain a thorough and carefully-prepared description of the manifold resources of Arizona.

This special number of The Times will fully maintain the high standard that has been set by this journal for similar publications. It will be free from the shallow "write-up" style of article, which so frequently disgraces and lessens the value of such special numbers. Thousands of copies of this number will, undoubtedly, be filed away for reference. To insure insertion, advertisements intended for this number of The Times should be received not later than October 1.

IN THE CITY OF STRIKES.

It is seldom that, in time of peace, an American city has been placed in such an extraordinary and desperate position as that in which San Francisco finds itself today. It is a sort of a topsy-turvy arrangement—a community in which the social sewage runs above ground, and the decent members of the community stand around wondering what is going to happen next, while those to whom they naturally look for protection and guidance—the Mayor and the Governor—sit calmly by and declare that the condition of affairs is highly satisfactory; that there is nothing "on" more serious than a "friendly contest" between labor and capital.

Strikers and their defenders continue to assert that there is no violence, or that, if there is any violence, it is not the work of union men. This claim is so palpably false and absurd as to be unworthy of further attempt at refutation. The strikers have been guilty of almost innumerable acts of violence, and the miserable Police Court judges have convicted at such actions. The time will presumably come, even in San Francisco, when the men who thus sully the ermine will be called upon to answer for their cowardliness and treachery. Had these men, who disgraced the bench, fearlessly done their duty from the beginning, the strike would have been settled long ago.

A significant light upon the methods of the strikers is thrown by a recent report of the proceedings of a convention of the Union Labor party or clique's organization, which is made up entirely of union workmen, and is pledged to nominate none but union workingmen, except for legal and judicial offices. When the convention reached the nominations for these offices, this is what took place, according to the Argonaut:

"An excited discussion followed the motion of Delegate Roxburg of the Allied Printing Trades council to pass the nominations of District Attorney, City and County Attorney, and police judges for the time being, 'as it would be inimical,' he said, 'to the interests of the strikers.' An amendment to the motion included the Coroner. A substitute was presented by Ryan of the Brotherhood of Teamsters, placing the five nominations as the last order of business.

"We beg of you," said Ryan, "on behalf of the City Front Federation, to take this action, and select these judicial officers last. It is absolutely essential to the success of the strike. If you fail to do this, our cause may be lost."

"Ryan's appeal was effective, and his substitute was carried by a vociferous vote."

List of officers whose nominations should be postponed is significant. The Coroner would have much influence in the case of an inquest on non-union men killed by strikers. The promoters of anarchy in San Francisco are evidently determined to lose no points in their game.

The police department of San Francisco deserves much credit for the plucky manner in which it has stood up against ruffianism, in the face of tremendous obstacles. Finding it useless to arrest law breakers and bring them before the police courts, where they were simply discharged, the department adopted another line of tactics, sending men along the water front of an evening, in plain clothes, and arresting ruffians who were threatening or assaulting people. These men were charged with being drunk—which was generally true—and were locked up over night. As the corrupt police judges do not get down town until 10 o'clock, their friends the embryo murderers were forced to stay in jail all night, and thus a considerable amount of damage has been averted. In one night 123 arrests were made in this manner, of whom eighty-five were sailors, and the Argonaut says that nearly every one of them was a foreigner—the same class of cattle that has given San Pedro a bad name.

How long is this condition of affairs to be allowed to continue? A contemporary protests against the suggestion of organizing a vigilance committee, claiming that this would be yet another form of anarchy. But what, then, are the respectable citizens of San Francisco to do? When the judges, the head of the city and the head of the State refuse to do their duty, what is left for these citizens but to take the protection of life and property into their own hands? The man who can see any comparison between an organization formed for the protection of life and property against ruffians, and an anarchistic organization for the destruction of life and property, must himself be almost ripe for anarchy—or the insane asylum.

WEALTH OF HAWAII.

From comparative statements of the assessed valuation of property in the Hawaiian Islands (now known as the Territory of Hawaii) during the past ten years, it appears that over $87,000,000 has been added to the taxable value of the islands within that period. Detailed statements for the several taxation divisions or districts have been prepared under the direction of J. W. Pratt, assessor for the island of Oahu, and the figures are therefore official.

The Honolulu Evening Bulletin of September 18 publishes a series of tables showing the increase of values in the several taxation districts for each year during the past decade. It appears from these tables that the wealth of the island of Oahu (upon which island is situated the city of Honolulu) has about trebled within the past five years, the increase aggregating nearly $50,000,000 for the decade. The following tabular statement shows the aggregate taxable wealth of the entire group for each of the ten years from 1892 to 1901, inclusive:

This exhibit cannot be otherwise than extremely gratifying to every one who has the interests of this island territory at heart. It is noteworthy that the increase of wealth in the islands has become a Territory of the United States. This is no doubt attributable to the establishment of a stable government, which has made possible the investment of capital in productive enterprises with greatly decreased dangers of loss. It is to be hoped that under the guidance and the guardianship of the great American republic the Territory of Hawaii will continue to make steady and rapid progress, not only in the increase of wealth, but in the realization of the priceless blessings of freedom which came to these islands with annexation to the United States.

A FRIEND OF NATIONAL IRRIGATION.

There is little doubt that, among other things, the question of national irrigation of the arid lands will be well taken care of under the administration of President Roosevelt. He has lived for a long time in the West, and is fully able to appreciate the importance of this question. Since becoming President, as well as before, he has cordially expressed himself in favor of the national irrigation of the public lands of the arid West.

A dispatch from Washington states that Senator Hansbrough of North Dakota, who is a prominent advocate of national irrigation, recently called upon the President, and after the interview expressed the belief that the President favors the required Congressional appropriation for the reclamation of the arid lands. He added:

"Congress is going to be liberal with the West in dealing with irrigation questions, and I believe that President Roosevelt will also be most liberally disposed. I believe that the government should give the proceeds of the sale of public lands to irrigation purposes. This would amount to about $10,000,000 each year, and it could be expended under the direction of the Secretary of the Interior in making surveys and in the construction of reservoirs and canals. After the government has done its part the private land owners will do a great deal. They stand ready to spend millions also."

At the times has previously observed, the application of the proceeds of the sales of arid lands to the building of reservoirs would be all right, as far as it goes, but of itself it would be far from sufficient to produce any adequate results, commensurate with the vast importance of the problem. Such money would probably be divided among the States, in proportion to the amount received from each, and this would not go far in the building of reservoirs.

There is every reason to hope that the coming Congress will deal liberally with the arid West in the matter of an appropriation for irrigation purposes. The campaign of education on this subject that has been carried on during the past couple of years has been productive of good results.

A Los Angeles House Divided Against Itself.

Unlike the biblical house, which divided against itself cannot stand, there is standing on top of the Buena Vista-street hill a house which has been cut in twain. The south side of the Welcome House, a lodging-place at Nos. 362 and 364 Buena Vista street, is a wall of bare lath and plaster, and its owner is powerless to build any other. The house was literally sawed in two a few weeks ago, and since then the gaping wall of lath and plaster has stood as a monument to the spleen of an uncle against his niece, the amputated her house, and won't let her fix it.

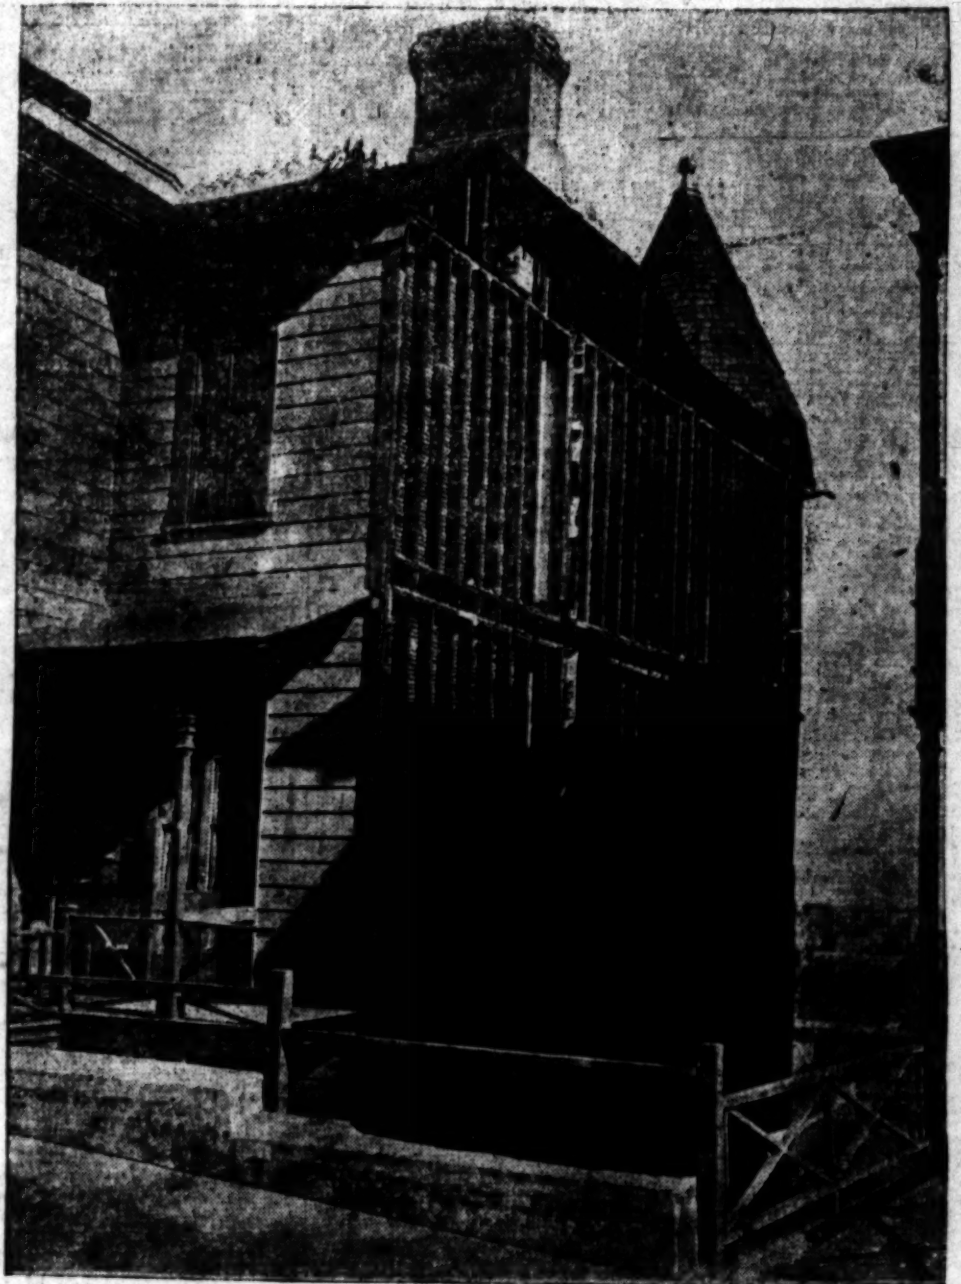

While unlike the biblical house, in one respect, nevertheless the cutting Laquer, who is the daughter of Mrs. Goytino's sister. Bitter enmity has sprung up between the children and the grandchildren of the children and the grandchildren of the children, and in the fight in the courts both sides charged fraud and undue influence. The compromise which ended the contest of the will did not end the bitterness which had been engendered, as is shown today by the house which stands as a monument to the spleen of an uncle against his niece, the amputated her house, and won't let her fix it.

When the carpenter was driven from the place, Mrs. Laquer consulted her lawyer, E. O. Edgerton. It was suggested that she should have offered the heads of any persons who walk beneath them through the narrow court dividing the two buildings. The firmy character of the once interior, now exterior, wall and the severed siding of the house make it easy prey for fire, while the heavy rain would utter ruin it.

Mrs. Laquer employed a carpenter to wall up the side of her building. He went to the place, but was driven off of the premises by the Goytino tenant, who refused to allow him on the Goytino lot. In order to put a siding on the house, workmen would have to erect a scaffolding on the Goytino lot, and this Goytino refuses to permit.

AMPUTATED HOUSE.

saunders of the Buena Vista-street building originated in a house divided against itself. The house was divided against itself in the matter of the Welcome House, a lodging-place at Nos. 362 and 364 Buena Vista street, and thereby hangs the tale of the house which was sawed in two. It seems that Mrs. Laquer had foreseen this action, for she had put up in her building a new partition, just inside the line of her lot. So when the trespassing end of the house had been cut off, a wall of plaster and lath was raised inside the edge of the jagged boards.

The south side of the building now looks as though it had been visited by a Kansas cyclone, and from the rock down to the basement, four stories, loose ends of boards, rails and scantlings dangle in the air, a menace to

So when the trespassing end of the house had been cut off, a wall of plaster and lath was raised inside the edge of the jagged boards.

TWO WEARY OF LIVING.

John Lhez Has Himself Cut to Pieces.

Jumps Under Rapidly-moving Train.

J. A. Lane Tries Pistol Route in Shooting Gallery, but Fails to Kill.

John Lhez, a French baker, threw himself in front of a Southern Pacific passenger train near Eastern Park, at the extreme southern boundary of the city, at 5 o'clock yesterday evening and was ground to pieces under the wheels. The act was witnessed by several small boys, and from their statements to the coroner, it seems that the suicide was committed in the most deliberate manner. The cause is believed to have been domestic troubles and drink.

Lhez was first noticed at the place about an hour before the train was due there. His peculiar actions attracted attention. He was seen several times to take a stone and beat against the telegraph poles. He also took frequent drinks from a bottle, which was later found empty near the track. He went there on a bicycle, and left the wheel at the side of the roadway while he wandered up and down the track.

When the passenger train from San Pedro, due at the Arcade station at 5:15 p.m., approached the place and whistled for the crossing, Lhez was at station himself near the track. When the engine was within a few yards of him, much too close to stop, he threw his body upon the rails. The engineer saw him, and at once tried to stop, but too late. The body was mangled in a horrible manner. Death was instantaneous.

The remains were not moved until the arrival of the deputy coroner, and then it was found necessary to cut portions in a sheet. The feet were found twenty-five feet from the rest of the body, which was so mangled that pieces were scattered along the track for several yards. The face was not even bruised, and the breast and shoulders had escaped the wheels.

It was not until the body had been removed to Booth & Boyson's undertaking establishment that anything was found which led to the identification. From papers in the pockets his name was learned. These papers indicated that the deceased was a native of the village of Tarbes, France, and that he had performed military service as a member of the Eighteenth Infantry, Seventy-second Brigade, Thirty-sixth Division, Eighteenth Army Corps, and that he had been discharged in September, 1893.

Lhez resided with his family at No. 126 North Main street, and was employed at a French bakery on Aliso street. He worked at night, and therefore had the afternoon to himself. He left his place of employment yesterday morning about daylight and went home, but did not remain. Taking his wheel, he left without saying where he was going, and leaves a widow and three children, aged respectively 2, 5 and 7 years.

The domestic relations of the deceased had not been the most pleasant, partly because of his weakness for drink. He and his wife had frequent quarrels, and on the fourth of July he was arrested on a charge of whipping her. He was convicted in the Police Court and fined $100, but appealed the case. This trouble seemed to prey upon his mind. He always maintained that he had struck his wife, and certain witnesses testified at the trial. A few days ago his sister came here from Oxnard, and during her visit the neighbors heard a quarrel in the house. He leaves another sister, who lives in this city. The coroner will hold an inquest today.

SHOT IN THE HEAD.

SWEDEN FAILS TO KILL.

J. A. Lane, a Swede who recently came to this city from Farmington, Wash., made a determined effort to commit suicide last night in Sawyer's shooting gallery, No. 110 North Main street. While shooting at a target with a 22-caliber pistol he suddenly shot himself in the head. The wound inflicted is not serious, the bullet passing off the skull and burying itself in the scalp three inches from where it entered. It was later extracted by the Police Surgeon.

A score or more of men were in the shooting gallery when Lane entered, and John Pearson, an attendant, asked him if he wanted to shoot. He said he would wait awhile and remained for some time watching others. Then he took his rifle and, firing at the smallest target in the place, showed that he was an excellent shot. His marksmanship was so good that others were attracted and quite a crowd collected. Then he asked for the target pistol. It was loaded and handed to him and he had two shots with it. He was an expert with the pistol as with the rifle, and he was not nervous. When the pistol had been loaded a third time he took careful aim at a target, but instead of firing he lowered the weapon. Then, in a flash, he dashed his hat off with his left hand, placed the pistol against his head and fired. D. J. Malloy and A. Cummings were standing behind him and tried to seize his arm, but they were not quick enough.

At the Receiving Hospital, while his wound was being dressed, Lane stated that he was followed by an enemy and that he had tried to kill himself in order to escape this man, whose name he refused to divulge. He talked in a rambling manner and it was evident that he is mentally weak. He was put to bed and will be held in custody until his father, A. T. Lane of Farmington, Wash., can be communicated with. Lane has been in Los Angeles about five months, and has worked as a laborer for a number of contractors.

Widespread devastation has been caused by floods in the districts of San Francisco and Los Angeles. Cottages have been swept away and whole villages are inundated. Many families who have been cut off from escape are in peril.

J. P. Kerner, who was stung by the barbers' union, was arrested yesterday at the instance of the secretary of the union on a charge of obstructing a barber without a license from the State Barbers' Commission.

AT THE CITY HALL.

MARKET MASTERS MUST STOP EXPENDITURES.

COUNCIL MINORITY WILL INTRODUCE A RESOLUTION.

Will Ask That the Public Market Be Abandoned and Some Disposition Made of the Incubus That the City Has on Its Hands.

Despite the utmost endeavors of its members of the Council the public market remains a market only in name. Three months and more have passed since the majority changed the location of the market in the city of Los Angeles and the market has been a failure.

While the market was located at Ninth and Los Angeles streets it was a failure. Since its removal to the present site at Third street and Central avenue, it has become a useless blood-sucker that daily saps the life of the municipality.

Not a single fruit peddler or vegetable dealer has sought to market his produce in the big, dark and gloomy structure that the Council majority has labeled "Public Market." A staunch and tried public servant is the market inspector, who laboriously guards the market, and who has been seen to walk away from the market and draw from the city treasury $32.50 per month.

But the majority was not content with moving the market building to the present location. Doors had to be added to the building, the building had to be painted to suit the fastidious taste of the bays and ovals that make up the market, and other improvements made to swell the expense entailed by this incubus.

Mr. Frankfield brought up the question of reorganization, but the Mayor thought that the commission should have to move in a matter of so much importance.

President Powers of the Council, while acting Mayor, brought the matter to the attention of the board. He said that the board should either bring suit to determine the legality of the law, or the majority should be reorganized in protection to the taxpayers. It is supposed that Mayor Snyder cut short his stay in San Francisco in order to defend the market, but the suggestion caused in the fire department.

FUSELEHR'S PLACE.

Since the board passed a resolution some time ago declaring the place of the market to be the present location, "vacant until further orders," there has been some doubt as to the standing of Charles Fuselehr, who held the position until his recent removal. Mr. Frankfield brought up the matter yesterday. He said he was in doubt as to the standing of the assistant chief of the fire department, and in pursuance of a resolution of the board, he was removed from the position. The question should be settled.

On motion of Mr. Webb the board ordered the Chief to return Fuselehr to duty, and a certificate showing his physical fitness for the arduous duties of assistant fire chief.

Fuselehr and his lieutenants have been missing from the streets since last May.

NEW MEETING DAY.

Because the Fire Commission numbered the days of the month, the meeting was changed yesterday from Wednesday to Friday. With the return of the ducks to the marshes and hedgerows, Messrs. Kuhn and Frankfield were busy with the ducks and gun to bag the wary wild fowl.

Only the true sportsman knows how serious it is to sit in a chair in a close, stuffy room, and hear the legal arguments of attorneys and promoters, while the mind is picturing a wild fowl flutter in the feeding grounds and sweep in widening circles through the air overhead.

"As I was saying, this gas plant" rings in the ears and the heart, and with this sudden jerk back to reality, the day of the office, reeking with tobacco smoke.

GAS LOCATION.

Driven to desperation by continued failure to secure a location for a gas plant, the Equitable Gas and Electric Company has invaded the enemy's camp and defies the Fire Commission, the Council or any other body to prevent the construction of a gas plant on the corner of Channing street, between Seventh and Atlantic streets. With the permission of the company presented a petition waiver signed by the Baker and Warehouse Company, which has the balance of the block, withdrawing all objection to the erection of a gas plant on the property.

Manager Carver tried to secure immediate action from the commission, but failed. The application was referred to the Chief in the regular way, and some time during the week the commission will investigate the proposed site at the gas company's expense.

The location selected by the company is just across Channing street from a storage tank of the Los Angeles Lighting Company and is within the gas limits recently established by ordinance. The Los Angeles Lighting Company, which has been fighting the new concern, will have considerable difficulty in working up protests against the Equitable company without involving themselves.

Just north of the site of the new gas works is the plant of the Alcatraz Testing Company, and California Warehouse. The site is in the center of a manufacturing district, and it looks as though the Equitable company has found a place where it may build in peace. Whether the city will allow the company the use of the streets without a franchise is another question which will probably come before the Council in due time. If the new company intends to furnish gas and electricity for lighting only, the constitution gives it the right to use the streets; if the company furnishes power and fuel then a franchise must be secured from the Council.

WILL NOT SUE.

If the sentiments expressed by members of the commission yesterday regarding the firemen's pension law indicate what action will finally be taken, no friendly suit will be instituted by the board. The law, Mayor Snyder believes the commission should rest on its oars, refuse to put the law in operation, and wait until some taxpayer brings suit or demand money from an injured fireman for the benefits of the law.

"We can't sue ourselves," said the Mayor yesterday. "The law is on our side. We can't sue ourselves." The Mayor said that a legal opinion had been secured by Mr. Kuhn, who is the chief of the fire department. The opinion was that the law is valid, and the firemen should be paid. The Mayor said that he would not sue the firemen, but he would see that the law was enforced.

STAFFORD'S VACATION.

City Engineer Stafford, who has been a sufferer from his grippe for the past few weeks, is going to start tonight for Hesperia, a little town on the desert. Mr. Stafford hopes to find in the dry air a cure for his ailment. He is leaving a deputy in his place, Mr. J. P. Kerner, who is now at work at Hesperia, and Mr. Stafford will come back with them for a time.

WHO OPENED ENVELOPE FOR VALUED CONTENTS?

A LOCAL AUCTIONEER CHARGED WITH FRAUDULENT SNEAKING.

Judge York tries a case wherein O. J. Bamberger sues C. B. Williams and others to set aside a deed—Defendants deny All Crooked Dealing.

Sealed envelopes are not supposed to be opened unless by parties to whom they are addressed, and the court is inclined to believe that the suit in Judge York's department that C. B. Williams, a local auctioneer and real estate agent, opened a letter to the Title Insurance and Trust Company by O. J. Bamberger for delivery.

And thereby hangs the "wager." Bamberger in May, 1900, got a judgment against M. A. Casenave and his wife for $44.57, and immediately moved to enforce the same on property owned by Mrs. Casenave near San Pedro and Crocker streets.

In October, Mrs. Casenave had an opportunity to sell the property, and she was offered $100 for it. She refused to sell, and the property was sold at auction for $100. The court found that the property was sold for less than its value, and that the auctioneer, Williams, was guilty of fraud.

MAN WHO STAMPED THE TOTEM PUT UNDER ARREST.

Secretary of the Union Charges Kerner With Employing Unlicensed Barber and Later is Also Arrested. Sleep's Firm Held on Brogan.

Union tactics of persecution have been put in motion against J. P. Kerner, proprietor of the Merchants' Barber Shop, who had the audacity to run his own business and charge what he pleased for the service. Kerner was arrested on a complaint of the secretary of the barbers' union, George Kleininger, on a charge of hiring a barber not holding a certificate from the State Barbers' Commission. Kerner was released on $1000 bond.

Dunn, opened the year's work with a brief report of the club's progress, and the resignation of Mrs. W. H. Housh from the office of secretary came before the meeting, and a motion of regret was passed and a rising vote of thanks given Mrs. Housh for her very efficient and faithful work in the interest of the club. Mrs. W. F. Taylor, No. 23 East 10th, Broadway, who was elected at a recent board meeting, assumed the duties of secretary. Mrs. J. C. Fletcher presented the club as a small memorial of Dr. Fletcher, a fine copy of the Empress Agrippina as Juno, which the doctor had purchased for the club for safe keeping and will be hung upon the walls.

THE PRECINCT PROSPECT. It is reported that a rich body of sulphide ore has recently been encountered on the 700-foot level of the Great Belcher property in Yavapai county.

The excavation work for the Shannon mine at Clifton, Ariz., is progressing rapidly. The foundations for the ore bins are being laid, and a large amount of side track is being provided.

IN AN ACCOUNT OF THE WORK BEING DONE BY E. B. GAGS IN THE OPENING OF THE MINES AT TOMBSTONE, ARIZ., THE PROSPECTOR OF THAT CITY SAYS:

"The shaft has attained a depth of about 450 feet, and is being sunk at a rate of about eight-hour shifts can make their way to the coveted goal—the 600-foot level, where water will be encountered and the body penetrated. When the water shall have been reached shafts will be cut out at intervals of 100 feet, and a system of pumping installed, which the mine may be said to have been opened up; a systematic exploitation will be inaugurated, and a large force of men employed. The boiler, mammoth piece of machinery of 500 horse-power and weighing 15,000 pounds, has been ordered and will be on the ground in the near future. The pumps that have been specially constructed for this work—having a capacity of 1700 gallons per minute; there are two steam pumps of a capacity of 800 gallons per minute each, five slinking pumps of a normal capacity of 600 gallons per minute, with the capability of being pushed up to 1000 gallons per minute. The mine pump is a triple-expansion condensing and is the most useful yet brought into this district."

THE NEEDLES, CALIF. Correspondent of the Los Angeles Mining Review sends that paper an account of the new railway to be constructed from Ibez, on the Santa Fe Railway, in San Bernardino county, Cal., to Eldorado, a distance of 10 miles. The Eldorado Railway Company will begin about November 1 to build its grade from Ibez to Eldorado. The road will be 10 miles long, and will extend north to the banks of the Colorado River, forty miles above Needles, and in the midst of a promising mining section of country. The country around Needles is rich in copper and silver, and the new railway will be a great benefit to the mining industry.

INTO COUNTY MINES.

The Ballarat correspondent of the Blahop Register writes that the Anthony property near Panamint has started up under a bond. The Anthony mine is being worked under the management of W. Goddard.

NITER BEDS.

A report from Danby, San Bernardino county, Cal., states that E. McArthur and Tommy McDonald have discovered some large niter beds twenty miles south of the Needles in California. They have given a bond on them to eastern parties for $50,000 for thirty days.

QUICKSILVER MINES.

The Oceanic Quicksilver Mining Company, composed chiefly of Los Angeles people, who prospect in a large area of miles distant from Cambria, San Luis Obispo county, Cal., has been organized.

HAIR & SCALP.

Nothing so common as to find a person who is suffering from itching, burning, and scaling of the scalp, and who is unable to get relief from any of the usual remedies. The cause of this is often a deficiency of the natural oils of the scalp, and the remedy is to use a hair oil that will supply the deficiency. The hair oil should be applied to the scalp every day, and the hair should be washed with a mild soap.

MINING EXPOSITION TO BE HELD IN NEW YORK.

Gold Road Group Again Sold.—The reopening at Tombstone—New Railway Through Rich Mineral Section. Discovery of Niter.—Notes.

A report to The Times states that the Mining Exposition which is to be held in New York City at the Grand Central Palace for two weeks, beginning December 2 next, will be the first presentation of the practical branch of the mineral industry to the financial center of the country. The exposition will broadly cover every mineral product and the machinery, appliances and processes necessary to produce the products for the commercial markets. The primary object of the exposition, as stated in a circular letter, is to educate the public and to demonstrate the great importance of the various mineral industries, as well as to afford a rendezvous and mart for practical miners, stockholders, engineers, geologists, manufacturers, and others who are in any way interested in metals and minerals. The petroleum department will be one of the prominent features of the exposition, and it has been made for associations and companies desiring to hold conventions and meetings during the fifteen days of the exposition.

HAIR & SCALP.

Nothing so common as to find a person who is suffering from itching, burning, and scaling of the scalp, and who is unable to get relief from any of the usual remedies. The cause of this is often a deficiency of the natural oils of the scalp, and the remedy is to use a hair oil that will supply the deficiency. The hair oil should be applied to the scalp every day, and the hair should be washed with a mild soap.
